

ITAM Award 2015

Criteria

The IT Asset Management Award is given to one or more professionals, organizations or initiatives that have contributed remarkably to securing and/or developing good IT Asset Management.

IT Asset Management is becoming a discipline in its own right. The IT Asset Management Award honors and celebrates those who have already contributed and/or are contributing to this development and at the same time have promoted good IT Asset Management beyond the ordinary.

Receivers of the ITAM Award are selected with the following criterias in mind:

- Commitment*
- Ambition*
- Making a difference*
- Pioneering*
- Going beyond the ordinary*
- Going beyond own interests*
- “Promoting Transparent Licensing”*

2015 ITAM Award winner

David Bicket

"David Bicket has honorably been elected as the first winner of the ITAMOrg IT Asset Management Award.

The prize is given in recognition of his complete dedication throughout the decades and his work on creating better visibility and focus on IT Asset Management, especially Software Asset Management.

David has been a pillar in bringing together the industry across customers, vendors and other stakeholders to develop the standards for the industry.

As the former convener of the ISO 19770 (wg21), David has contributed in an outstanding way to the creation of the standard. At times a challenging task where David has had to reach consensus across vendors and international interests.

Despite the challenges, David most often succeeded in his efforts and deserves the utmost respect.

A man with great dedication and drive that is a role model for anyone trying to achieve what would seem to be impossible."